DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the Prior Art in Figs. 11-13 of applicant's disclosure, for the reasons set forth in the office action, mailed November 15, 2005.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed February 17, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the problem in the prior art is that there is a danger that a user's fingers will come into contact with a blade and be injured. Applicant states that this stated problem is solved with applicant's new structure of the present invention. However, it should be pointed out that with this particular structure a user's finger could still come into contact with a blade and be injured. Applicant further argues that the claims recite specific structure such as a holding portion having a height, drainage notch is formed in the holding portion, opposing longitudinal side rising portions with a center having a height extending from the top surface greater than the opposing ends, and a pair of opposing curved longitudinal side raised portions having a height at the center that extends from the top surface greater than the opposing ends. However, these features are considered to be merely obvious design choices over the prior art, since a user's finger could still come into contact with the blade and be injured using such design. This action is a final rejection and is intended to close the prosecution of this application. Applicant's reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to this action is limited either to an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences or to an amendment complying with the requirements set forth below.

If applicant should desire to appeal any rejection made by the examiner, a Notice of Appeal must be filed within the period for reply identifying the rejected claim or claims appealed. If applicant should desire to file an amendment, entry of a proposed amendment after final rejection cannot be made as a matter of right unless it merely cancels claims or complies with a formal requirement made earlier. Amendments touching the merits of the application which otherwise might not be proper may be admitted upon a showing a good and sufficient reasons why they are necessary and why they were not presented earlier.

A reply under 37 CFR 1.113 to a final rejection must include the appeal from, or cancellation of, each rejected claim. The filing of an amendment after final rejection, whether or not it is entered, does not stop the running of the statutory period for reply to the final rejection unless the examiner holds the claims to be in condition for allowance. Accordingly, if a Notice of Appeal has not been filed properly within the period for reply, or any extension of this period obtained under either 37 CFR 1.136(a) or (b), the application will become abandoned.
